As Mika already said:

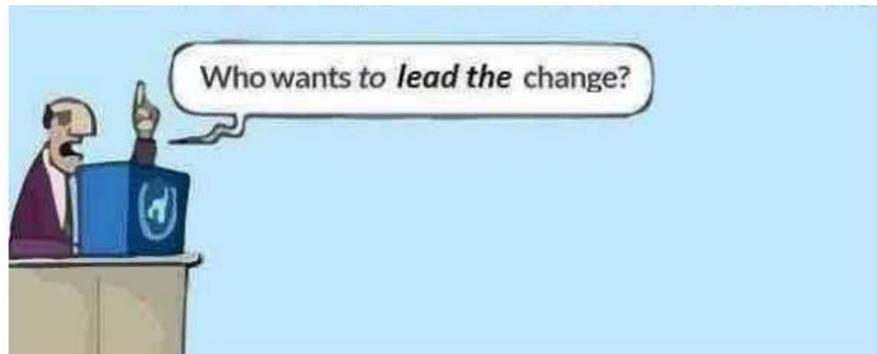

MANAGING COMPLEX CHANGE

- Putting in place an international strategy can be compared to managing a process of complex change. refreshment

What would be the answer in your institution to this question?

How to make strategy come alive

- Influences and potential impact of institutional culture
 - staff is afraid of changes
 - staff own motivation and lack of motivation regarding the strategy plan.
- Support factors
 - to be adaptable to changing environment
 - find motivation in new common goals
- Hinder factors

Questions to reflect

- How could established roles in your institution affect the implementation/application of the strategy?
- How important is external motivation in your institution?
- What actions may be taken to ensure the survival of the strategy?
- Which are your institution's support and hinder factors?

And just in case ...

BE POSSITIVE!!

Always look at the bright side of life.
